The focus of the grammar is both fluency and accuracy. The emphasis across the series is on meaning and the use of forms in situations.

Each book in the series tries to cover grammatical concepts that have been treated in a very elementary way in the beginner series which is revisited in greater depth progressively. The composition section of each book consists of writing activities that have been related to several of the grammatical concepts introduced in each level. The activities in this section are related to themes that the learner is likely to find meaningful at each stage of learning.
